

Prayer Reflections - A Prayer for All

Begin with the opening prayer

A Prayer for All

My Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner. In the silence of my soul, I cry out to you, my Father, seeking your grace, yearning for your love. Forgive me for the times I have turned away, for the times I chose my will over yours, for the pride that blinds me, and the fears that chain me.

My Father, grant me the strength to rise each time I fall, to walk courageously along the path you have set before me, to trust in your plan even when the way seems dark. Tear away the desires that bind me to this world. Fill my heart with the fire of your Spirit. Cloth me in the humility of your love, and let every breath I take be a testament to your mercy, a reflection of your glory.

Our Father who art in Heaven, shape me as you will. Break me, refine me, mold me into a vessel for your truth. May I carry your light to those in need. May I be an instrument of your peace. I do not ask for riches or comfort but for courage to face trials, faith to endure the storms, and wisdom to follow your ways.

May my life be strong and have gratitude for your faith & infinite love. A hymn of praise for your eternal glory. My Lord, may your will always be done, now and forever. In the name of Jesus Christ, I pray, Amen.

Prayer submitted by a Casual Evangelization community member

Discuss the following questions

In the silence of my soul, I cry out to you...

When was the last time you felt spiritually dry, distant, or in need of God's mercy? What did that silence feel like for you?

Forgive me for the times I have turned away...

What are some patterns in your life where you tend to choose your will over God's? What helps you recognize and return to Him?

Break me, refine me, mold me...

What area of your life do you feel God is trying to reshape or refine right now? How does that make you feel - hopeful, scared, resistant, at peace?